The version of me who is an energetic match for this vision... (free write!)

When your vision isn't big or expansive enough, you will stunt your growth and find yourself sabotaging or feeling stuck.

10 tell tale signs your vision isn't big enough or you need EXPANDERS in your life.

1. You already have the resources to make it happen
2. You are pretty comfortable where you are
3. You aren't afraid of it when you see it written down, in fact it doesn't excite or scare you all that much
4. You sabotage yourself on the things that mean the most to you
5. You care more about being really relatable than inspirational
6. You are scared of looking greedy for wanting more
7. You are afraid to speak out loud what you ACTUALLY want
8. You already know the exact HOW to get there
9. You already have the resources to make it happen
10. You don't ever share your dreams or vision out loud
